Job Application for Front End Software Engineer

Please accept this letter as an expression of my interest in the Front End Software Engineer position.

About Me

I am a highly motivated person with a positive outlook, focused on personal and professional progress. I have five years of experience in the IT industry as a Software Test Engineer. Although I haven't had years of experience in software development yet, my overall experience in the industry, alongside my software engineering skills, make me ready to contribute to the project's success. I am not afraid of a challenge.

While working as a Test Engineer at GlobalLogic Inc., I performed analysis and stabilization of existing automated tests and wrote new tests within existing test frameworks for testing software of medical devices (insulin pumps). The coding part of the testing was the most rewarding and exciting for me, and for this reason, I am pursuing a full-time developer role.

I completed the General Assembly Full-Stack Software Engineering course. During that period, I built several projects showcased on my website. The most "mature" among them is "Resume Builder" (work in progress). It has a reasonable level of complexity. I'm using modern technologies (React, Next.js and MongoDB). The main idea is to optimize the resume composition's process (especially for junior developers) while applying for a job.

Although in my current work for "Web Design Café", I have an excellent opportunity to develop, in my opinion, necessary (for software engineers) Project Management skills, my passion for coding stays only partially satisfied. Hence, I'd love to join the workplace in a software developer role with promising possibilities for developing strong engineering skills.

Why Aligent Consulting?

Striving for excellence and perfection has always attracted me. It probably has something to do with my upbringing: my father often told me that if you do something, do it in the best possible way or don't start at all. He taught me this by his example. So whatever I do, I always dare to achieve the highest level of craftsmanship in it. Based on what I got from the internet about Aligent Consulting, I can see similar approaches, and this is one of the reasons I would be delighted to join the company.

Why Me?

As someone committed to personal growth, while working for my previous Employers, I have attended numerous training, webinars, and knowledge sharing sessions, allowing me constantly improve my level of technical and personal skills. Also, I have always understood the importance of interpersonal relations for the working process. So, one of my priorities working in teams is to build and maintain a positive and friendly atmosphere between colleagues and me.

Sincerely,

Oli (Oleksii) Mostovyi
